Menominee Defies State's New Time Law

LANSING (AP) — The little city of Menominee defied the state Friday, refusing to set its clocks an hour ahead and go on Eastern Standard Time.

The state took it calmly, however--at least for the time being.

Gov. George Romney signed into law Friday morning a bill establishing Eastern time in the whole state.

Previously Gogebic and Dickinson counties and part of Menominee County, all in the western Upper Peninsula, were on Central time with neighboring Wisconsin.

The rest of Michigan, although geographically in the Central time zone, has been on Eastern Standard Time for more than 20 years.

In Lansing, Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan said Menominee "will be given a reasonable time to acclimate" to the one-hour time switch. He indicated no action was likely against any community before April 1.

"We're going to operate under the assumption that they will go along with this," Cohan said. "But if there are flagrant violations, I think we may have to crack down."

If the crackdown comes, it probably will be in the courts, Cohan said. "I don't envision sending in the State Police," he said.

Menominee's mayor, John Reindl and city attorney, Kenneth Doyle, said the city planned to do what it has done each year--stay on Central Standard time until the last Sunday in April, then switch to Eastern Standard (or Central daylight) Time for six months.

That change would follow a Menominee city ordinance and, Doyle claims, the city is entitled to follow such an ordinance under the state's City Home Rule Act.

The ordinance is designed to keep Menominee's clocks on the same time as those in neighboring Marinette, Wis., he said.

Otherwise problems would be created for persons who work in both cities or live in one and work in the other, Doyle said.

"If the times of the two cities are the same, everything goes smoothly," Doyle said. "We function like one city."

In Washington, U.S. Rep. Philip Ruppe, who represents the Upper Peninsula, advised the city of 11,000 to stick by its guns.

Ruppe said Menominee is, by federal definition, in the Central zone and the state has no power to change that.

"The U.S. Department of Transportation (enforcer of the Federal Uniform Time Act) is realistic enough to know that there is no point in coming up to Menominee with a U.S. marshall and having him go screaming down the street that, 'you fellows are disobeying the law and let's all go to court,'" Ruppe said.

"You can go home and set your clock any way you want to," Ruppe added. "It's your clock."

The mayors of the Dickinson County communities of Norway, Kingsford and Iron Mountain indicated the cities would switch to Eastern time April 1.

Ironwood, the state's westernmost city, planned to make the switch during the wee hours Saturday morning. "We have no choice," said Mayor Ellfred Wright.

Withholding Ends; Farmhouse Burned

By The Associated Press

State Police today sought to determine whether a farm fire near Muskegon was connected with the National Farmers Organization (NFO) milk withholding action, now in its 11th day.

The fire Friday destroyed a vacant farm house owned by Mrs. Lucila Corinti of Muskegon. She is not a mmber of the NFO.

Mrs. Corinti's farm house was located on a 160-cow dairy farm northeast of Fuskegon. She had been withholding the farm northeast of Muskegon. et, but said she decided to resume shipping Thursday.

Mrs. Corinti told Grand Haven State Police she received an anonymous telephone call Friday morning. The caller told her the house was burning, she said.

The fire department had been notified of the fire 10 minutes before, police said.

Police also investigated a shooting incident near Monroe.

They said windows in a milk shed on the farm of Donald Doty were shot out Friday.

Meanwhile, milk dumping continued. At Grand Blanc, farmers poured milk into bathtubs set on lawns and swimsuit-clad girls hopped into the tubs.

The NFO withholding action, covering at least 25 states, is aimed at boosting prices for farmers by $1 a hundredweight, or two cents per gallon.

A second organization, the Michigan Milk Producers Association, has delivered milk on schedule.

Ask 4 Month Pact

CHICAGO, (AP) — The National Farmers Organization has demanded four-month contracts from milk processors in its drive to increase milk prices to dairy farmers by two cents a quart.

At the same time the NFO threatened Friday to slaughter milk cows in some areas unless the proposals are accepted soon.

Various labor unions have joined the NFO in support of its milk-withholding campaign, while milk dumping continued in many areas of the 23 states affected by the boycott that began 11 days ago.

The contracts reportedly were accepted by at least four milk processors in Minneapolis.

Support NFO

Oren Lee Staley, president of the NFO, said from his Corning, Iowa, headquarters that the holdout would go on indefinitely if milk processors spurn the contract offer. The proposal calls for immediate agreements that could be renewed for a full year at the end of the initial four months.

Members of Meat Cutters and Teamsters Union locals joined farmers on picket lines in Tennessee. Nashville milk processors were reported planning court action to halt picketing of their plants by the union members.

Both locals, representing milk truck drivers, ordered a halt to deliveries.

Soviet Captain Arraignment In Court Is Today

KODIAK, Alaska (AP) — The skipper of a seized Soviet trawler, whose arrival here drew a crowd of 500 irritated, curious Alaskans, was aboard a Coast Guard cutter today awaiting transfer to Anchorage for arraignment on charges of violating U. S. fisheries zone.

The Soviet trawler SRTM 8-547 and its Coast Guard escort were anchored about two miles from here Friday to avoid possible incidents in this fishing community of 5,000.

Keonid M. Kushchenko, skipper of the Soviet vessel, and Dimtry Kavkaykin, representing the Soviet fleet commander, was to be flown to Anchorage for arraignment today.

The captain will be charged with violating the U. S. exclusive 12-mile fisheries zone, which carries a maximum penalty of a $10,000 fine and one year in prison. His boat and cargo also could be confiscated.

Reds Shoot Up Truck Convoy

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces in the northern sector of South Vietnam shot up a 121-truck convoy Friday. In skirmishes and mortar attacks, the Reds killed 24 U. S. Marines and wounded 140 more.

The Communists ambushed the big South Vietnamese army convoy near Da Nang, leaving heavy South Vietnamese casualties and 57 trucks wrecked.

In the same battle zone Communist mines twice hit a U.S. Marine convoy, leaving three trucks burned and abandoned, three Leathernecks dead and 10 wounded.

The ground fighting swirled around 514-foot Con Thien Mountain just south of the demilitarized zone separating North and South Vietnam. The rugged area is developing into a major trouble spot between the Marines and North Vietnamese regulars filtering down from the North.

Much of the ground action listed in Saturday's communique took place in Quang Tri Province which borders the zone.

The Communists are believed to have about 35,000 men in Quang Tri, the demilitarized zone and just to the north of it.

The military spokesman said battles over the previous 48 hours in Quang Tri killed 146 Communist soldiers.

Search Mafia 'Cemetery' For Gangland Victims

JACKSON TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — FBI agents using bulldozers churned up the muddy grounds of a suspected Cosa Nostra cemetery today in the search for more gangland murder victims. Two bodies already have been dug up.

In disclosing the probe Friday, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover issued a statement saying the search was the product of an extensive two-year investigation of the Cosa Nostra in New York and New Jersey.

Hoover said the investigation "specifically concerned a number of individuals who had disappeared, allegedly as a result of having incurred the disfavor of Cosa Nostra officials or leaders as far back as 1960, and who are thought to be buried on these sites."

Find Two Bodies

The two bodies, which were found Thursday night in this sparsely populated area 60 miles from New York, were little more than skeletons in tattered remnants of clothing. The FBI made identification on the basis that it had expected to find two specific bodies at two specific points. It declined to say how it knew where the bodies were buried.

One body was tentatively identified as that of Angelo Sonnessa, who was 49 when he disappeared in September 1961.

His skeleton was turned over to Dr. Milton Helpern, chief medical examiner for New York City and one of the nation's foremost medical sleuths, for postmortem examination.

Was Stockbroker

The remains of the other victim, tentatively identified as Kenneth Later, were shipped to the FBI laboratory in Washington for tests. Later, who was 55 when he disappeared on March 29, 1963, was identified as a New York City stockbroker.

The bodies were found on what was once a 20-acre chicken farm. Later's body was found in an oil drum filled with hydrocholric acid and was largely disintegrated.

The owners of the farm, Joseph Celso, 49, and his wife Rose, 46, were arraigned Friday in Asbury Park as material witnesses.

The FBI said Sonnessa was a business partner of the late Joseph Vecchio in the All State Asphalt Co., a contracting firm in Nutley, N.J.

Vecchio was indicted in May 1960 with 29 other men alleged to be the prime distributing organization for heroin in the United States.

Out Of Favor

The FBI said Sonnessa "had allegedly gained the disfavor of an identified member of the Cosa Nostra who is presently serving a term in a federal penitentiary on a narcotics violation." The FBI declined to identify the narcotics violator by name.

An FBI spokesman would not say what, if any, link had been established between Later and the Cosa Nostra, but it is known that the crime syndicate has infiltrated some brokerage houses and has the money to manipulate some stock prices on various stock exchanges.

Sonnessa's body was found in a mash pit on the site of an abandoned liquor still. A plastic bag was tied around the head with wire and the ankles were bound. The remains of a sport shirt also was uncovered.

Black Denies Plan To Retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — In two days Justice Hugo L. Black will become the sixth oldest man ever to serve on the Supreme Court bench — and he says he has no intention of hanging up his judicial robes soon.

Black, 81, is in his 30th year on the bench. Washington columnist Leslie Carpenter reported earlier this week that the justice planned to retire on or before Aug. 17, the 30th anniversary of the Senate's confirmation of his appointment.

Asked about retirement, Black said Friday through a spokesman: "I haven't discussed it with anyone, nobody on earth. I'm not suggesting it to anybody and nobody has suggested it to me."

Only Chief Justice Roger Taney and Associate Justices Oliver Wendell Holmes, Gabriel Duvall, Louis Dembitz Brandeis, Joseph McKenna and Stephen Johnson have served on the court to an older age.

Black will pass Johnson, a 19th Century justice, in two days.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt appointed Black — then a U. S. senator — in 1937.

Many Observe Resurrection In Sunrise Rite

By The Associated Press

From the serene St. Peter's Basilica in Rome to the battle-scarred rice paddies of Vietnam, Christians the world over observed Holy Saturday today in preparation for the Easter celebration of Christ's resurrection. They prayed for peace in Vietnam and social justice.

Holy Saturday recalls the period of Christ's entombment and leads to the rejoicing of His resurrection. The Holy Saturday rites included the "blessing of the new fire," which starts a three-hour evening vigil ceremony in St. Peter's Basilica led by Pope Paul VI.

The vigil service will be climaxed with a Papal Mass of joy shortly before midnight commemorating the resurrection of Christ. At the same time, the bells of Rome's 400 churches will ring, led by the 10-ton master bell atop St. Peter's Basilica at the Vatican.

About 10,000 Easter Pilgrims were in Old Jerusalem.

Sunrise Service

In the United States, Americans will celebrate Christ's resurrection in hundreds of sunrise services on mountaintops, in park grottoes, in tiny churches and in huge auditoriums.

The Pope will celebrate two Masses Easter Sunday. At noon he will deliver his Easter message in which he will announce that he has prepared an encyclical on social justice.

In Good Friday services, many Christians in the United States took note of contemporary social issues and the war in Vietnam.

Four Methodist churches in Chicago sponsored a "Good Friday fast" to protest slum housing.

The war in Vietnam was the theme of services at two Lutheran churches in New York City.

Protest War, Poverty

"Christ was crucified in this neighborhood this year," cried more than 200 Christians in Washington who followed such symbolic stations of the cross as racial strife, poverty, slum housing, crime and war through

Easter Message

Easter Sunday the Pope will celebrate two Masses and at noon deliver his Easter message and bless the city of Rome and the world.

In his Easter message, the Vatican said, the Pope will announce that he has prepared an encyclical on social justice. The encyclical, fifth of Pope Paul's reign and a major Papal document, will be issued Tuesday.

As church officials prepared the basilica for the vigil ceremony, tourists and pilgrims continued to congregate in Rome.

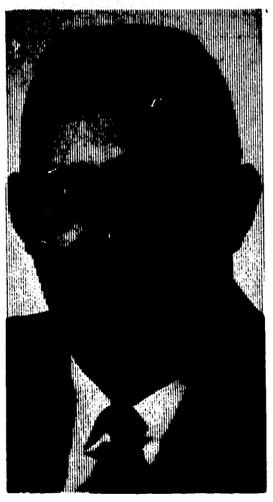
Cancer Crusade Opens:

Delta's Goal Is $8,231

The 1967 Delta County Cancer Crusade to raise $8,231 will get under way on April 1 and will involve the volunteer efforts of between 700 to 800 people, it is announced by Jack Beck, Escanaba, the Crusade chairman.

These volunteer workers will combine their solicitation for funds with the distribution of cancer education materials. They will make calls in all of the townships and in Gladstone and Escanaba.

"This Crusade helps enlighten the public on the facts of cancer: That early detection can mean a quicker recovery," said Charles Anspaugh of Gladstone, the president of the Delta County unit of the American Cancer Society .



Jack Beck

Many Cooperate

The dates for the residential campaign in Escanaba are April 18, 19 and 20. In Gladstone the house-to-house calls will be made about mid-April.

The solicitation of business and industry will begin in early April.

Labor organizations will be solicited under the direction of Clyde Nyquist of the Teamsters Union.

The campaign will be carried into the townships of Delta County later in the month.

Special events on behalf of the Crusade will be a dance sponsored by the Student Councils of Escanaba Area High School and Holy Name High School, to be held in the Area High School commons.

Seeking A Cure

Gladstone's participation in the Crusade will be on several fronts, with Mrs. Bernard Olsen and Mrs. Cliff D'Arcy co-chairmen of the residential drive. The solicitation of Gladstone business places will be directed by Mrs. Joseph Butch.

One-half of the contributions received in the Crusade will go to the Michigan and American Cancer Societies for financing a program of cancer research, furthering the fight that is ultimately expected to lead to a cure for the disease.

The remaining 50 per cent is spent in Delta County for programs fo patient care, cancer dressings, drugs, prescriptions, transportation, x-ray examinations, and for public and professional cancer education.

Cooperating in the Crusade are service stations, where bumper stickers will be distributed; the Boy Scouts, who will distribute window posters with the Crusade message; and taverns where the special 'buck boards' will again be installed.

Soviets Launch Four Satellites In Past 5 Days

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched its fourth unmanned satellite in the past five days, indicating possible preparations for a manned space launch.

Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said all systems aboard Cosmos 152, launched today, were functioning normally.

The unmanned Cosmos series is officially described as a program of scientific space research. In the past a series of Cosmos launchings has often preceded a manned Soviet space shot.

The Soviet Union has not launched a manned spacecraft since Alexei A. Leonov took the first walk in space on March 18, 1965.

Death Car Driver Given Probation Before Sentence

PONTIAC (AP)—A judge has given a Pontiac motorist responsible for the deaths of two teenagers eight months probation himself before sentence is pronounced.

The delayed sentence was ordered Friday for James Rosser, 25, who pleaded guilty to negligent homicide. Rosser, an auto plant workr, is the father of four small children.

Oakland Circuit Court Judge Robert Templin said his first thought was to send Rosser to jail.

"But my concern is with your children," he told the defendant. "It's up to you to reclaim yourself."

Templin ordered Rosser not to drive or drink during the probationary priod, and to return for sentencing Nov. 24. Rosser is free on $1,000 bond.

Migrant March Expects To Reach Capitol Sunday

LANSING (AP) — The Good Friday march of Spanish-American protesting migrant labor working conditions in Michigan headed toward the State Capitol today after the group attended Tre Ore services in St. Charles.

About 25 marchers spent the night in a church basement in Oakley before continuing today.

They planned to spend tonight in buses parked outside Lansing before continuing on to the Capitol where they will be greeted Sunday by Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken who has promised to hear out their grievances.

In Friday's march some carried signs in Spanish reading: "Viva la Causa."

Their cause, said Tom Chavez, chairman of Latin Americans for United Political Action (LAUPA), is "workman's compensation for migrant workers, better housing and better education."

Pickets Protest War At Lansing

LANSING (AP) — About 70 sign-carrying persons silently picketed the state Capitol Friday to protest the war in Vietnam.

Signs said, "Stop the Bombing and Start Negotiating," and "We Mourn the Loss of Lives in Vietnam."

Most of the demonstrators were members of the Ingham County Chapter of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

"We just wanted to take Good Friday, the day Christ died, to show our concern for the loss of lives in Vietnam," said Mrs. Richard Webster, chairman of the Ingham County group.

A group of teen-agers staged a brief counter-demonstration.

Mrs. Webster said members of the Grand Rapids and Chelsea chapters of the league also participated in the demonstration.

Collegians Swarm In Library Of Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — You're hearing a lot again this year about the college kid invasion of Florida for spring vacation — the beaches, beer and Bikini blast.

But how about the student swarm at the Library of Congress, where the only emphasis is on books, books and books.

It's the annual, traditional, Easter march-in of college students with term papers to write. They come not with blankets and transistor radios, but with notebooks and fountain pens.

They're the reading regiment, as opposed to the beach brigade.

"It's been building up for two weeks," Brian N. Willson who works in the gigantic main reading room, said today.

The library keepjs count only the calls for books, now running about 5,000 a day — double the normal total — with an estimated three-fourths of the requests from college students. The two reading rooms of the library will seat 446 persons.

They've all been filled every day this past week.

For many years, college kids have been spending vacations reading at the Library of Congress, and their numbers grow larger each year. As Willson put it — "the demand-for-information explosion is growing every year."

The library doesn't advertise or use gimmicks to attract kids but really likes to see them come in. "It's fine to see them this interested in learning," Willson said.

Huge Dinosaur Bones Found In Baja California

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bones of what may be the second-largest creatures ever to live on earth reportedly have been uncovered in Mexico's Baja California.

The bones are believed to be those of vegetarian dinosaurs, 60 to 90 feet long, that lived about 80 million years ago.

Discovery of the bones was reported Friday in an article by geologist William J. Morris in the technical journal Science, a weekly publication of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Morris, from Occidental College in Los Angeles, said the bones were found last summer near El Rosario, along the Pacific margin of Baja California, the long peninsula extending south from the State of California.

The bones include pieces of skull, fossilized teeth, bits of vertebrae and tail-bones. Morris said they belonged to a specie of dinosaur called hypacrosaurus.

Rotary, Kiwanis To Hear McGoff

The Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs of Escanaba will hear John P. McGoff, East Lansing, president of Panax Corp., at a joint meeting of the clubs at the House of Ludington Tuesday noon.

Panax Corp. is the owner of the Escanaba Daily Press, Iron Mountain News and the Marquette Mining Journal in the Upper Peninsula, and five radio stations, one television station and two other newspapers in its chain.

McGoff, the son of a Pittsburgh steelworker, was selling newspapers when he was 13, and was later employed in the steel mills and on a lumber boat to the West Indies before he entered Michigan State University.

He served in the U. S. Army's Third Infantry North Africa, Southern Europe, Rhone and Rhine campaigns in World War II.

He was aided by the GI Bill in attending MSU, where he received his B. A. degree in 1950 and his M. A. in 1956. He majored in history and political science. For 10 years after his graduation he was employed on the staff of MSU.

He spearheaded the growth of the Midstate Broadcasting Corp., which owned one radio station in East Lansing, into Panax Corp. with its five newspaper, radio and TV stations.

Actively interested in politics and government, McGoff is a member of the Board of Control of Northern Michigan University, is chairman of the Ingham County Republican Party, is a director of the American Presidents Life Insurance Co., and is a member of the Gov. Romney's Blue Ribbon Committee on Education, the Navy League, and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He is 1967 regional chairman for Michigan Week.

Delta's Banks Lead Peninsula In Deposit Gain

Escanaba's banks have more resources than those in any other Upper Peninsula city again this year, the Michigan Investor reports in an accounting of the deposits of all Michigan's banks.

The growth of wealth in Escanaba, as indicated by banking deposits was also the greatest in any Upper Peninsula city in the last five years, the Michigan Investor's accounting indicated. And so was the growth in deposits in Delta County, topping the rate of growth for Marquette County in the half decade, although Marquette's deposits were greater in total than those in the Delta County banks. The populations of the two counties, a factor in deposits, are quite different, Marquette's being 56,154 in the 1960 Census and Delta's 34,298.

All of Escanaba's banks were among the first 13 of the U. P.'s 47 banks. The First National Bank & Trust Co. of Marquette, which has more deposits than any other U. P. bank was 76th in the listing of all Michigan banks with deposits of $22.8 million.

Escanaba Leads

The Union National Bank of Marquette was second with $16.9 million and next in order were the First National Bank & Trust Co. of Escanaba, with $16.2 million and the Northern Michigan National Bank of Escanaba (formerly the Escanaba National) with $15.5 million. The State Bank of Escanaba was 13th with $11.6 million.

All of the three Escanaba banks had substantial increases in deposits. Compared with 1961 deposits they showed increases of $5.1 million for the First National, $6.9 million for the Northern National, and $2.5 million for the State Bank, a total of $14.5 million over 5 years ago, while Marquette's banks were registering a total gain of only $13.3 million.

County Leads Gain

When Gladstone's banks, the First National and the Gladstone State Savings add their deposits to Delta County's the total becomes $52.4 million which is a gain of $17.2 million compared with the gain of $14.7 million for the four banks of Marquette County (including those in Negaunee and Ishpeming) in the 5 year period.

Even in the Upper Peninsula's economic problem areas like Ironwood, where there has been a cessation of iron mining on the Gogebic Range, the historic support for the economy of the area, and in Sault Ste. Marie, plagued by loss of industry, there were gains in bank deposits.

The report showed these totals in million, with 1966 deposits first and 1961 deposits second, for all banks in the cities:

Sault Ste. Marie $33.5—$27.1.

Houghton and Hancock, $25.9—$17.3.

Ironwood Gains

Menominee (where the Commercial Bank went ahead of the First National in deposits $9.5 million to $8.9, reversing a $6.7 and $7.3 million position in 1961) $18.4—$14.1.

Ironwood $18.1—$15.1.

Iron Mountain $26.3—$18.

Gladstone $9.1—$6.4. (First National $4.1—$2.6 million, State Savings Bank $4.9—$3.7 millions).

Manistique $12.7—$8.7. (First National $6.6—$4.4 million; State Savings $6.0—$4.4 million.)

The First National Bank of Hermansville reported deposits of $2.1 million compared with $1.6 million in 1961; the Bank of Stephenson $7.3 million compared with $4.1 million; the Trenary State Bank $1.6 and $1 million; the First National of St. Ignace $7.3—$4.8 million; the Newberry State Bank $4.3—$3.2 milion; and the First National of Munising $3.6—$3.1 million and People State of Munising $2.6 and $2 million.

House Urged: Delay Pay Hike

LANSING (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee reported favorably Friday a resolution which would nt a proposed $21.5 million pay and benefit increase for state civil Service employes.

The raise becomes effective July 1 unless both houses of the Legislature, by two-thirds votes, reject it no later than April 3.

With the deadline for action only six working days away, House Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe, said he hoped the legislature would pass the resolution and delay action on the pay increase until after the state's fiscal picture becomes clearer.

If lawmakers reject the increase now, he said, they would be free to reintroduce and pass it later—after they pass tax bills providing more state revenue.

Otherwise, Waldron said, the $21.5 million added expenditure would take effect whether or not new taxes are levied to pay for it.

Waldron added he was not certain two-thirds of the 109 House members would support turning down the pay hike.

Marinette Firm Gets Navy Work

MARINETTE — Marinette Marine Corp. has been awarded a Navy contract for $7,258-500 in new construction and is low bidder for approximately $10 million in additional orders.

An announcement by Senator Gaylord Nelson and ifficials of the firm indicated that the new contract call for construction of 43 LCM (8) landing craft. They will be fabricated of aluminum and deliveries are scheduled to begin in 1968.

It was the second large contract to be awarded to Marinette Marine this month. On March 3, the Marinette shipyard received an order to build 74 steel LCM (6) landing craft, also for 1968 delivery, at a cost of $2,322,000.

Marinette Marine also announced that it has submitted the low bid for construction of eight LCU (landing craft utility) to be built of steel at a total cost of $6,896,000. The firm said it also was low bidder at $3,500,000 for construction of five YTB harbor tugs at the local yard.

James Derusha, naval architect of the firm, said deliveries of the new work will extend into 1969. All of the construction is for the Navy.

At present Marinette Marine is constructing 28 of the aluminum LCM(8)s. The contract for the 74-foot landing craft totals $5,540,000.

The shipyard also is facricating 20 steel LCM(8)s for a contract that totals $3,240,000.

The firm is completing contracts for construction of nine 35-foot workboats and four Navy tugs. The existing work and the newly awarded contracts represent the largest backlog of orders in the history of the company.

The orders and prospects total $29 million and are the firm's greatest backlog of work for the Navy.

Implied Consent

The effort to reduce the horrendous automobile toll in Michigan is being pursued on several fronts.

The federal government is pushing for safer automobiles by setting up safety standards in manufacture.

In the Michigan Legislature there's renewal of the long effort to make the drunk driving laws more effective. Drinking is a huge contributor to the crashing, crippling and killing on the highways.

Congress is certainly going to be successful to a considerable degree in requiring the construction of safer automobiles. This is not a simple matter of Congress knowing more than the auto makers or being more concerned with the highway killings. (Michigan had 2,243 highway deaths last year, 2,129 in 1965.)

Congress is going to do something about the auto slaughter and, typically, it is going to do it politically. It is politically offensive to bar dangerous voters from the highways, so it is going to try to make cars so safe that even when there's a crash the occupants won't be so apt to be maimed or mortuaried. This will be very expensive, of course. It's been estimated that the first round or so of applications of the new safety standards may add as much as 100 bucks to the cost of a car.

The buyer will pay this tribute to our inability to keep dangerous drivers off the highways. Many of them are identified by their drunk driving records and crash histories, but under out present laws, as enforced, they get back on the highways because they have to drive a car to make a living, their license revocation creates a hardship, etc.

But changing the laws isn't easy. Officers must have better laws if they're to tag drunk drivers in crashes and make it stick in court, but writing better laws is no easy matter. Our Legislature is currently tussling with this problem. The proper concern of lawmakers with a law of this kind is that it not create an unwarranted infringement on privacy in the effort to protect the public.

The "implied consent" principle would make a driver's application for a driver license constitute permission for the police to make a medical examination if he were suspected of intoxication in a crash inquiry. The right of police to make a scientific determination of the volume of alcohol in the suspect is the linchpin of any highway safety program. Without such authority the police are handcuffed.

But with such authority the police are very apt to face a constitutional challenge that the law can't survive. Police may be subject to false arrest charges if the drunk test law isn't clearly constitutional under the "search and seizure" rules. And physicians who make the tests must be protected, too, if the law is to be effective.

The Legislature is hearing all the things that are wrong with the legislation being proposed. That's fine. The law should be air-tight. But if the Legislature becomes so impressed with the impediments in proposed legislation to curb drunk driving that it does nothing the people should demand an accounting. It is their lives which are at stake on the highways. There should be a vigilance for enactment even greater than the concern over deficiencies in proposed legislation.

It is inevitable that people who accept the state's license to drive are going to be held accountable for their ability to drive safely and the sooner we get at it the more lives will be saved.

Negro Leaders Split

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Responsible Negro leaders today seem no closer to finding a dramatic new course of action than they were six to eight months ago.

Sources within the movement say that the split between the moderates in the NAACP and the Urban League and the radicals in CORE and SNICK is greater than ever.

Reports persist that the venerable leader, A. Philip Randolph, shortly will call some sort of "summit meeting" to be held next month in Washington, the object being to sort out priorities and infuse the struggle with fresh urgency.

The expectation is, however, that some Negro militants might decline to attend. Their isolation earlier was emphasized by the absence of any CORE or SNICK representative at the White House gathering of Negro leaders the day before President Johnson gave Congress his 1967 civil rights message.

Operating currently without the spur of demonstrations or other attention-getting techniques, the moderates are now pressing quietly but hard for the President's new proposals for fair housing, protection of civil rights workers, opening of southern juries to Negroes and other legislative matters.

They are also doing what they can, on a broad front, to promote better jobs, schools and housing through enlistment of private establishment aid. Says one civil rights appraiser:

"Right now they are exhibiting a reasoned kind of impatience."

But their troubles are legion. They believe that the "private sector" is seriously unresponsive. Badly needed cadres of responsible new Negro leaders are not developing. Impressive new members of middle-class Negroes, in themselves an important fact in the changing racial picture, are not taking a hand.

In the absence of sharply visible action, militants warnings of grave new racial explosions this summer in U. S. cities are heard with fear by responsible moderates.

Repetition of riots in the style of Watts-Chicago-Cleveland-Harlem is seen as self-defeating, since these prototype outbursts are heavily blamed for current conservative climate on the racial front.

House ouster of Adam Clayton Powell, of course, has further inflamed Negroes and may add to the prospect of a bad summer.

The moderates see no hope of a turn toward caution among the militants as the warm weather approaches. CORE leader Floyd McKissick is described by one observer as "having a boiling point of minus two." Stokely Carmichael, SNICK boss, is regarded as a continuing problem even if he should make good on his promise to step down from his post next month—which some doubt will happen.

The worst of it is that slow but real gains are being made by the Negro community, yet their largely undramatic nature makes it difficult for moderate leaders to hold them up as hopeful examples to Negroes still immersed in ghetto poverty.

Ironically, the most visible advance seems to be occurring in the still heavily segregated Old South. There the big stress is on improving Negro voting opportunities. Swelling registration figures testify that the effort is paying off.

In Mississippi where a key Democratic governorship primary takes place this summer, one forecast suggests 250,000 Negroes may by then be signed up to vote. The total now exceeds 180,000. The higher figure would represent roughly a third of eligible Negroes. Not many years back the registered percentage was around five.

$70,000 In Trash

BOSTON (AP) — Sidney Jaffee, a janitor at the Statehouse, found $70,000 worth of negotiable checks in some trash he was unloading.

The checks were destined for retired school teachers but had gone astray after being processed in the state treasurer's office.

Jaffee returned them and got a reward — coffee, doughnuts and a handshake from Robert Q. Crane, the state treasurer.

A letter from Winnipeg reads in part, "Do you ever open with a bid of four no-trump? If you do, what does the bid mean?"

The answer to this question is that we do use the four no-trump opening bid about once every year or so and when we do we are asking for aces. In other words our opening four no-trump is immediate Blackwood.

Today's hand shows this bid at work. South is a trifle shocked to find that he is expected to play a diamond slam without a diamond in his hand but he recovers from the shock in time to collect for the game, slam and rubber.

It is evident that North and South would have no trouble getting to six diamonds on almost any bidding sequence, but the opening four no-trump is really valuable here.

Suppose, for example, that North opened with a natural forcing two diamond bid or an artificial forcing two club bid.

East is not vulnerable. He can't be expected to get into the bidding at the five level but any East worth his salt would surely get into action at the two level and stick in a two spade overcall.

South would pass and West would bid either three hearts or three spades. This would not stop North from trying Blackwood at his second turn to bid but it also would not stop East and West taking a save at six spades. Six spades would be down three tricks for 500 points but that is a lot less than paying for a successful slam.

Finding The Way

Proclaim: 'God Lives'

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

He is dead! That was the verdict and, the word having been given, the body was removed from the Cross and placed in a tomb. Another tragedy and another sadness for a family and a family of friends. So Jesus of Nazareth was dead.

He is dead! That was the verdict and so, the word having been given, the fact of God was removed from men's minds and placed in a museum. Another tragedy and another sadness for the family of mankind, leaving another poignant loneliness. So God was dead.

The fact remains that death on Friday was met by life on Easter. It isn't just wishful thinking or sentimental dreaming. There was a reality that met these disciples and sent men daring and dreaming.

The fact remains that the obituary men have written out for God is not as absolute as they thought. There is a reality beyond the tombs of men's doubts and that still sends men daring and dreaming.

There were those who said they couldn't believe in Jesus because he couldn't and wouldn't come down from a Cross. And there are those who say they can't believe in God because he couldn't or wouldn't stop the horrible tragedies which have beset our generations.

One can understand this verdict of death. Look around at so many who claim the name of Christian and see how unlike Easter they've gotten at life. Every one of those fears, prejudices, hatreds and selfish running away either to play or to pout pile up the circumstantial evidence which says: "God is dead." Either there is powerful love, say these critics, or there is loveless power and, in either instance, it's intolerable. So seal up the tomb and roll up the great stone. He's dead.

Yet the undefeated fact remains that the whole Christian faith sprang out of that tomb and men insisted that Christ was alive. The Easter of that time so long ago must become our Easter also.

It is the shame of the ages that men so easily leave Easter in the past tense, instead of translating it into present-day boldness. Either the Christian community moves out with a new imagination and daring in our time or the rumor will still be abroad that God is dead.

The Moravians do a brave thing on Easter morning. They go into the cemetery at the break of day to sing their Easter anthem. With the loud notes of a trumpet, they walk in processional to the place made hallowed by many a memory to proclaim their faith. This Easter of 1967 demands that we march against war, hatreds, fears, tramping into the midst of slums and ghettos, blowing the trumpets of faith until the old tombs are broken. For, by the living God, Easter is to be known through living persons in living situations now.

PIG IN PARLOR

Is an ugly junk yard a nuisance? Is a noisy radio a nuisance? Is an odorous henhouse a nuisance? Consider this definition by the United States Supreme Court:

"A nuisance may be merely a right thing in the wrong place—like a pig in the parlor."

In other words, in complaining about an annoyance, it is not enough for you to point out how it looks, sounds, or smells. You must also show that it is not appropriate to the location.

For in the eyes of the law, when you choose your residence you are also choosing your environment. Choose the amenities and the excitement of the city, and you also choose its clatter and its dirt. They are a normal—even an essential—feature of urban living. As one judge put it:

"Without smoke, Pittsburgh would have remained a very pretty village.

Complaints about nuisances may be judged not only in terms of the general community or the particular neighborhood but even in terms of feet and inches. For example:

A home owner was denied an injunction against cooking odors blown from the house next door, when the court ascertained that there was a space almost 30 feet wide between the two buildings.

But an apartment dweller was granted relief from the cabbage and onion fumes aimed his way by the people directly across the hall.

Of course, to the person annoyed, the mere location of the annoyance is not the whole story. Not every individual has the same "threshold" of irritation. A smell or noise that vexes one neighbor may leave another—equally close to the source—totally unconcerned.

But as a practical matter, the law must decide according to average, not individual, tastes and sensibilities. Thus, a court refused to interfere with blasting noises which were irksome only to an especially nervous woman in the neighborhood.

Even if it tried, the law could not please everybody. Inevitably it would run afoul of those people who, in one court's words, "consider all noises offensive except those they make themselves."

Let Somebody Else Feed His Face, Girl

Dear Ann Landers: Although I have told my daughter many of the same things she has read in your column, she insists I am old fashioned but she says you are the living end.

Will you please help me out and express your views of a 17-year-old female who wrestles with her boy friend on the living room floor. What do you think of this behavior—even if she is wearing jeans?

The girl is a good student and sensible about most things, but for some mysterious reason she cannot understand why I object to her rolling around on the floor with her boy friend. Thank you, Ann.—MRS. T.H.R.

Dear Mrs. T.H.R.: This type of behavior is what I call "kidding on the square." It is not only unladylike but it is a teasing mechanism which could lead to trouble.

A 17-year-old girl should keep vertical when entertaining her boy friend. And she should be able to count four feet on the floor at all times—her two and his two.

Dear Ann Landers: For over a year I was very friendly with an attractive bachelor who lived in the apartment next door. He said I cooked just like his mother. Before I knew it, I was setting the table for two almost every night.

When he started to pop in for breakfast I decided on a change of tactics and moved to a building four blocks away. We had talked about marriage and I was sure he was serious about me. I thought the move would bring him around, but I was wrong.

Now I never see him unless I invite him for dinner. An old neighbor told me that a career gal who rented my apartment is now cooking for him as I once did.

Do you think I was dumb to move? Please tell me because there will be another vacancy in that building soon and I can have it if I want it.—MOM'S APPLE PIE

Dear Pie: This guy doesn't want to marry you, dearie. He only wants to EAT with you.

Let somebody else feed his face.

Dear Ann Landers: One of the best things about your column is that it makes our own troubles seem small when we read what other people have to put up with. I refer to the letter from the wife who was unhappy because her husband carried pictures of his parents in his wallet instead of her and the children.

I have the same problem but I never told anyone. I just sat around feeling sorry for myself. When that letter appeared in the paper, I showed it to a friend and asked her what she thought about it. Her reply knocked me for a loop. She said, "I wish I had the problem. My husband has been carrying a picture of his old girl friend for 9 years."

Now I feel lucky. Thanks, Ann.—NO MORE MOANING

Dear No: I hope the gal who wrote the original letter sees yours. Maybe she'll feel lucky, too.

The outdoor life. Any indoor man will tell you how great it is. But only an outdoor man can tell you what it does to human skin.

Constant sun dries skin out. Leathers it. Burns it over and over again. And that can be dangerous.

If you are out in the sun a lot (or even if you're not), check into any sore that does not heal. Promptly. It could be a warning signal of cancer. And cancer is easier to cure when it's detected early.

Lorne Greene knows the seven warning signals of cancer. So should you:

1. Unusual bleeding or discharge. 2. A lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere. 3. A sore that does not heal. 4. Change in bowel or bladder habits. 5. Hoarseness or cough. 6. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. 7. Change in a wart or mole.

If a signal lasts longer than two weeks, see your doctor without delay.

It makes sense to know the seven warning signals of cancer.

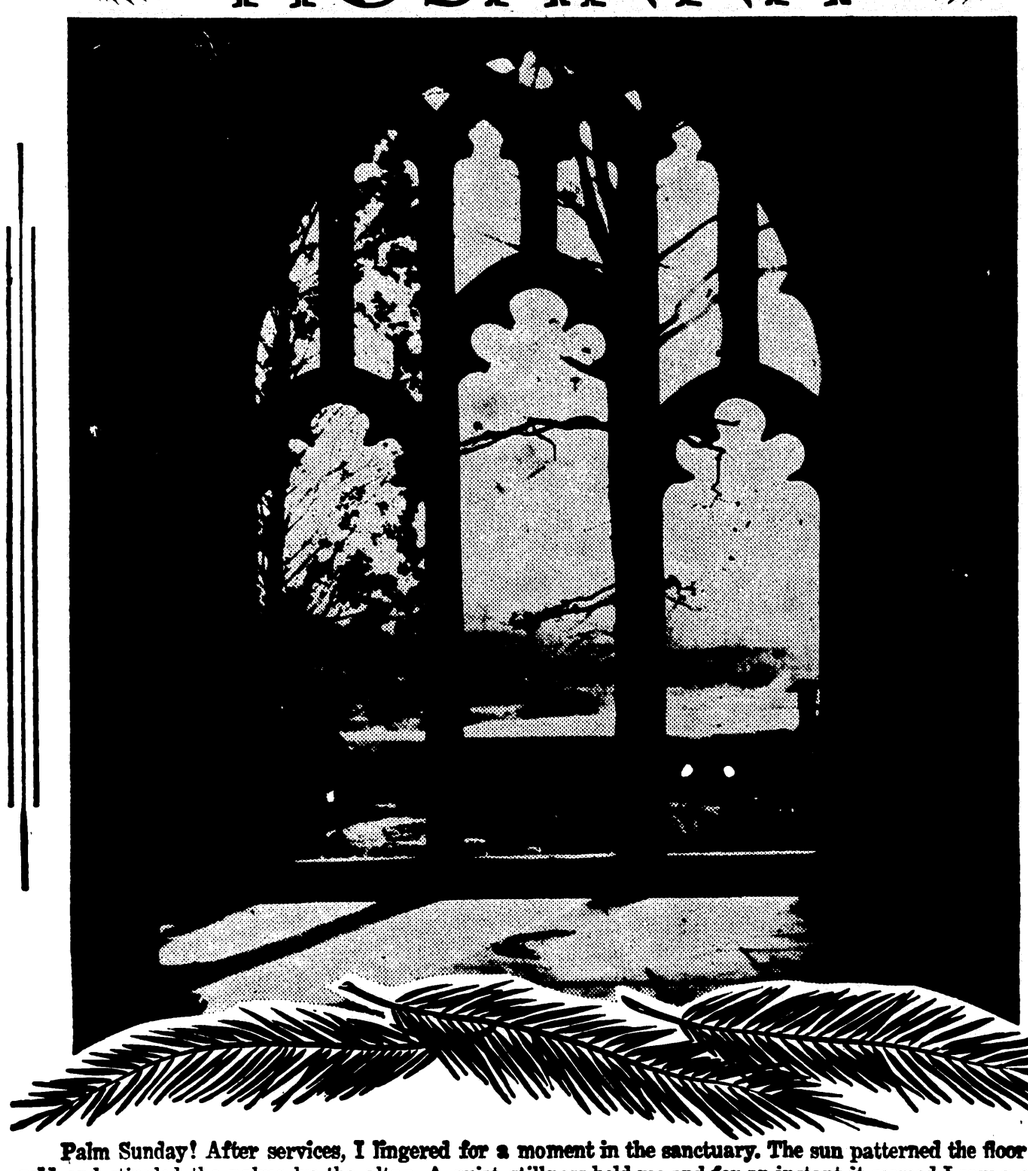
HOSANNA



Palm Sunday! After services, I lingered for a moment in the sanctuary. The sun patterned the floor with gold and stippled the palms by the altar. A quiet stillness held me and for an instant it seemed I saw a crowd waving branches and heard them shouting "Hosanna to the Son of David; Hosanna in the highest."

And Jesus came, riding through the tumult of rejoicing. He had been in Galilee making blind men see, and lame ones walk, lifting up the dead and quickening men's hearts to goodness with his teachings. Many voices sang his praise, yet in a few short days, their screams would swell a cry of "crucify Him."

How could they, we wonder? How could anyone be blind to the goodness of this man, the rightness of His Word?

And still today, as we turn away from the hungry, the poor, and disregard the needs of our fellowman; we just as surely add our voices to that cry.

Houston Mentor Changes Mind About UCLA Quint Losing Game This Season

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "I predicted before the season started," said Houston basketball Coach Guy Lewis, "that UCLA would lose before the season ended. Time seems to be running out on that prediction."

Now it's up to Dayton and Don May.

Lew Alcindor and the UCLA Bruins swept aside Houston 73-58 in the semifinals of the NCAA National Basketball Tournament Friday night and upped their season record to 29-0.

In an earlier game, Dayton's surprising Flyers shocked North Carolina 76-62 to set up the championship match tonight.

Lewis changed his prediction after his Cougars were defeated by the Bruins.

"I don't think any college team in the country will beat UCLA if UCLA will play — and UCLA will play," he said.

Referring to tonight's championship game, Lewis said, "I think Dayton will play them very well, but I don't think Dayton will win."

UCLA jumped off to a 16-11 lead early in the first half, but Houston rallied for its only lead of the game, 17-16, on a tip-in by Leary Lentz.

But the Bruins shot back to lead 39-28 at halftime and were never again in danger.

"Physically, they are as strong as any team we faced," UCLA Coach John Wooden said. "And I think a little more of our boy Alcindor than Elvin Hayes does."

Earlier, Hayes, Houston's All-America, had said Alcindor wasn't as good as he was supposed to be. And after facing the 7-foot-1⅜ Bruin, Hayes remained unimpressed.

Hayes won both the rebounding and scoring duel with Alcindor. The 6-foot-8 Hayes scored 25 points and grabbed 24 rebounds to 19 points and 20 rebounds for Alcindor.

If UCLA wins the championship, it will become only the fourth major-college team ever to go through a season undefeated and the second team to win three national titles in four years.

Much of Dayton's success was credited to the 6-foot-4 May who pumped in 34 points, mostly from the outside.

North Carolina and Houston play for third place before the UCLA-Dayton clash.

Spartans Snare Wrestling Lead

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Michigan State stood a good chance today to become the first Big Ten team to win the NCAA wrestling championship in 35 years and only the second conference team in history to do it.

The Spartans, pretournament favorites, held the team lead — 26-25 over neighboring rival Michigan — after Friday night's semifinals and had the most wrestlers, four, left in tonight's finals.

Of five returning individual champions, only two survived Friday's competition at Kent State University.

Mike Caruso of Lehigh, winner in the 123-pound class the past two years, came through the semifinal round with a 3-1 decision over Ed Parker of Indiana State. Rich Sanders, Portland State's defending titlist at 115 pounds, breezed into the finals by beating Ron Iwasaki of Oregon State 8-1.

Michigan State Wins Ball Game

MIAMI (AP)—Five innings of hitless pitching by Dick Kenney and a steady string of runs got Michigan State an 8-0 baseball victory over the Italian Amateur All-Stars Friday.

In his five-inning stint, Kenney struck out 11. Tim Irish, hurling the final two innings, yielded only one Italian hit and struck out four.

The Spartans slapped 11 hits in the game, with Kenney, Williams, Walters, and Linne collecting two each.

In addition centerfielder Tom Hummel boomed the Spartans' first homer of the spring over the rightfield fence.

The Italians, coached by American Bob Thompson, are the only foreign team competing in the eight-team Miami Invitational Tournament.

Today, the Spartans tackle the University of Miami, a team that has already beaten them.

Tiger Manager Is Satisfied; Record Is 7-7

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have played exactly half of their exhibition season, and Manager Mayo Smith is reasonably satisfied with their progress.

"Progress is good up until now," said Smith Friday. "You are never satisfied with the hitting, but I'm not disappointed with it."

Detroit is 7-7 through the first 14 games, but Smith hasn't been playing to win. He has been experimenting, trying different players under different conditions to see how they'll do, and taking a good look at some new or marginal players.

The bull pen has been cited as one of Smith's big problems, but he thinks he's reduced the size of the headache, at any rate.

"Now we're going to start using pitchers in a relief type of fashion," he said, "more like the type of action they'll see in the regular season.

"Our pitching has been pretty good, all-in-all. I don't think that we'll go over seven innings with anybody for a while yet.

"Wilson goes against the Yankees Saturday. I'll let him go according to how the game goes," Smith said.

"I'll use Denny McLain, Joe Sparma, Mickey Lolich, and Earl Wilson as starters, with the others being used out of the bull pen.

"I think the bull pen will be better this year. A deal appears only a remote possibility. I'm going to have to make my own relief pitchers that's probably the best way, anyway," he grinned.

"But I think out of our list of pitchers we'll find a couple of good relievers.

"I'll probably use Larry Sherry as the short reliever, and maybe Orlando Pena or possibly Bill Monboquette as the long ones right now.

"I'll start with Norm Cash, Dick McAuliffe, Ray Oyler, Don Wert, Bill Freehan, Willie Horton, Jim Northrup, and Al Kaline against the Yankees," Smith said.

"Mickey Stanley has been doing pretty well. I sure hope that he can hit a little better this year. He'd mean an awful lot to us in the outfield because of his defensive ability," Smith said.

Detroit plays the St. Louis Cardinals at Lakeland Sunday, then the New York Mets at St. Petersburg Monday.

Wills Is Off And Running For Pirates

By The Associated Press

Whoosh . . . Maury Wills is off and running again.

Baseball's most famous legs went into high gear for the first time this spring Friday night as Wills stole three bases in Pittsburgh's 1-0 exhibition baseball victory over World Champion Baltimore.

The Pirates got their only run in the first inning when Wills singled, stole second and rode home on Manny Mota's single.

Sound familiar? That's the kind of attack Wills and the Los Angeles Dodgers rode to two straight National League pennants. Can the power-laden Pirates be changing their approach?

The three steals gave Wills five in the last three games — all Pittsburgh victories. Tommie Sisk, Steve Blass and Billy Short made the run stand up on a two-hitter as the Orioles suffered their second straight shutout and their fifth in the last 11 days.

The Pirates, pre-season pennant favorites, lead the National League's Grapefruit League standings and have won four straight.

Ruben Amaro, known for his usually reliable glove, made three errors on two plays in the seventh inning, allowing Minnesota to score the winning run in a 6-5 victory over the New York Yankees.

The Twins went into the seventh trailing 5-4, but Sandy Valdespino doubled in the tying run. Then Amaro fumbled a ground ball and threw wildly, allowing the batter to reach second as Valdespino moved to third. When Amaro booted another grounder, Valdespino scored.

Rookie Steve Whitaker hammered a three-run homer for New York in the third inning, and Bill Bryan added a solo shot in the seventh.

Cesar Tovar had three hits — two of them doubles — for the Twins.

A full slate of games was scheduled for today, with Pittsburgh and Baltimore playing the only night game.

In day action it was Atlanta vs Cincinnati, Houston vs Washington, Los Angeles vs Philadelphia, the New York Mets vs Kansas City, St. Louis takes on the Chicago White Sox, the Chicago Cubs vs Cleveland, San Francisco vs California, Boston vs Minnesota and Detroit vs New York Yankees.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—The New York Mets acquired infielder Sandy Alomar and gave up infielder-outfielder Derrell Griffith in a trade with the Houston Astros.

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Returning champions Mike Caruso of Lehigh and Ed Parker of Indiana State survived the semifinals, while Michigan State was in the best position to take the team championshipwith four wrestlers left in the NCAA Championships.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Michigan sophomore Dave Renkiewicz gave up three hits Friday as the Wolverines trounced Cochise University 7-1 in baeball.

Renkiewicz, a right-hander from Wyandotte Mt. Carmel, lost his bid for a shutout when Cochise scored in the bottom of the seventh.

Centerfielder Andy Fisher and first baseman Jim Hosler led Michigan's attack with two hits and two RBIs each.

The victory was the Wolverines' fifth in nine spring games.

Stanford Takes Swimming Lead By Slim Margin

EAST LANSING (AP) — Upset-minded Stanford held a one-point lead as its duel with defending champion Southern California went into the final Championships today.

Paced by two record-breaking swimmers, Stanford captured 172 points in the first two nights of competition at the Michigan State University pool. Southern California trailed with 171 points, followed by Indiana 149, UCLA 106 and Michigan 104.

The 44th annual competition ends tonight with seven final events. Eleven finals have been held.

Greg Buckingham and Dick Roth, who swam together in high school at Atherton, Calif., became double winners Friday night for Stanford.

Buckingham upset Yale's Don Schollander to add the 200-yard freestyle gold medal to his previous first in the 500-yard freestyle. Roth won the 400-yard individual medley after taking the 200-yard individual medley.

Stanford added its third record-breaking victory in six finals Friday night by taking the 400-yard individual medley — an event worth 32 points. This gave Sanford five gold medals in 11 events.

Southern California, yet to win a first, was clinging to its hopes for a fifth straight NCAA title on team depth. Their bid was helped by the NCAA system of scoring to 12 places.

Other team scoring after the first 11 events: Yale 88, Southern Methodist 66, Michigan State 65, North Carolina 43, North Carolina State 33, Ohio State 25, Minnesota 22, Southern Illinois 20, Utah 19, Oregon 18, Wisconsin 14, Villanova and Princeton 13 each, Colorado State 11, Illinois 10, Army 7, Duke, Florida, Northwestern and Wyoming 3; Maryland, Georgia and Navy 2; Texas and Purdue 1.

Wilt Matches Assist Mark

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Every time you wonder how Wilt Chamberlain can come up with an encore for his record-studded National Basketball Association career, the 7-foot-1 center comes up with something brand new.

Friday night, he tied NBA playoff record that didn't even require his putting the ball in the basket.

Chamberlain handed out a record-tying 19 assists as he led the Philadelphia 76ers to a 121-106 victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

The victory gave the Eastern Division champions a 2-1 edge over the Royals in their best-of-five semi-final playoff series.

The teams meet in the fourth game in Cincinnati tonight.

Meanwhile, the Boston Celtics will be trying to make it two in a row in their Eastern semifinal set with the New York Knickerbockers in New York, and the St. Louis Hawks will be aiming to close out their best-of-five Western semifinal series against the Chicago Bulls at St. Louis.

Chamberlain's 19 assists tied the record set by the recognized all-time master in that department, former Boston guard Bob Cousy. Cousy turned the trick twice-in the 1957 and 1959 playoffs.

Chamberlain seemed as pleased with his latest accomplishment as he was some years ago when he scored 100 points in a game.

Killy Captures Skiing Honors

JACKSON HOLE, Wyo. (AP) — France's Jean Claude Killy, living up to his reputation as the world's best skier, and Nancy Greene of Canada, facing tough World Cup competition, scored opening round victories in the Wild West Classic giant slalom Friday.

Killy was favored to win again in the second giant slalom event today. Miss Greene scored an upset when the leading woman contender, Marielle Goitschel of France, took a spill near the top of the 43-gate, 1⅞-mile course.

Amateur Golfer Throwing Scare Into Pros In Pensacola Tourney

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — It's been 11 years since the golf pros have been whipped by an amateur in one of their tour events, but they were looking a bit uncomfortably today in the direction of thick-necked Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael, Calif.

In this par-breakingest of all PGA tournaments, Gay Brewer Jr., a 10-year veteran and defending champion, was out in front after 36 holes with a score of 130, 14 under par, but there on his heels, two strokes back, was the brash amateur, Cerrudo, member of Uncle Sam's Walker cup and World Cup teams.

Cerrudo, giving no indication of coming to earth, has put together a pair of hot 66s and was tied for second place with Homero Blancas at 132 going into the third round over the battered and reeling Pensacola Country Club course.

"No, I'm not awed or nervous about playing against the pros," said Cerrudo, 22, a former San Jose State athlete who missed tying for the National Amateur crown by a stroke last year. "I've played against most of them. And there's really not that much difference between the pros and the best amateurs."

Cerrudo happens to be one of the best amateurs. Many are acclaiming him the next new young star of the game.

He is cut from the mould of Arnold Palmer, a player he idolizes.

He is a powerfully built 5-foot-11, 187 pounds with tremendous sloping shoulders, thin waist and the arms and hands of a blacksmith. He has an 18-inch neck.

"Palmer always has been my ideal," said Cerrudo. "I haven't copied his style or anything like that. But I certainly admire him. I think he's the best."

Everybody's been waiting for Cerrudo to turn pro — he's a perfect prospect for the big money game — but he prefers, for the time being at least, to remain amateur. He sells automobiles for a living.

"I like amateur golf — you play and enjoy it, knowing that your next meal doesn't depend on every shot," Cerrudo said.

Brewer, who won here last year when leader Doug Sanders failed to sign his scorecard, nailed 10 birdies, six in a row, for a second round 64 Friday. Two consecutive three-putt greens kept him from being farther in front.

Cerrudo holed out a 90-yard wedge shot for an eagle deuce on the fifth hole and had four birdies with no bogeys. He's playing steadily and confidently. The last time an amateur won a tour event was in 1956 when Doug Sanders, then an amateur, captured the Canadian Open.

Beating par became the style here this week-end, with 80 bettering the 72 par the first day and 92 Friday. It took a score of 141, three under par, to qualify for the last 36 holes.

Tied at 133 were former PGA champion Bobby Nichols, Phil Rodgers and Ken Still, followed by rookie pro Jim Weichers and Wayne Yates, tied at 134; Rex Baxter and Gardner Dickinson at 135; Mike Souchak and Dan Sikes at 136.

The pre-tournament favorites — Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player, Doug Sanders and Julius Boros — were grouped at 140.

Post Office Battles Space Need, Swindles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department is running separate races against catastrophe and mail swindlers — and could lose both contests, say top postal officials.

"At present your Post Office Department is in a race with catastrophe. And it is a race that we could well lose, though it is certainly in our power not to lose it," Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien told the House Appropriations Committee.

He said the department's physical facilities, especially in big cities, are "inadequate, badly located and aging." He said mail is burgeoning at record rates, and warned that the Chicago logjam of last October could happen in any other big city.

He was backing an administration request for $6.6 billion to operate the department next fiscal year, up $400 million from this year. A request for an increase in rates is also being prepared.

Chief Postal Inspector Henry B. Montague told the same committee that mail swindlers are now grossing about $100 million a year — and their schemes are becoming technically easier to perpetrate.

"No person or business dare feel immune today from the ravages of the mail fraud swindler," he said, adding that chain referrals, medical frauds, correspondence school swindles and insurance frauds are causing the most trouble.

Queen Elizabeth Gives Gold Coins In Ancient Rite

DURHAM, England (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II gave out gold coins Thursday to 82 old people—41 men and 41 women for each of the 41 years of her life — at a Maundy Thursday ceremoney in Durham's Norman Cathedral.

It was the first time the rite had been held in the north of England since the reign of King Charles I (1623-1649). Usually it is held in London's Westminster Abbey or at Canterbury.

The old pople, ranging in age from 70 to more than 90, aceh had to have three qualifications —age, lack of wealth and distinction in voluntary services to his church or community.

Unknown Phenomenon May Result In UFOs Suggests Consultant

By A.F. MAHAN

HILLSDALE (AP) — An expert charged with investigating unidentified flying objects (UFOs) says they "may be the result of a completely unknown phenomenon which we don't know about today, in the same way that 100 years ago we didn't know about nuclear energy."

The expert is Dr. J. Allen Hynek, chairman of Northwestern University's department of astronomy and the scientific consultant to the Air Force on UFOs.

Hynek also says he would apply the term unidentified flying object "to any reported visual sightings or radar return that cannot be explained by conventional means after study by competent people."

He added, however, he never has seen a UFO and no photograph of one ever has been absolutely authenticated.

95% Identified

So far, he says, at least 95 per cent of reported UFO sightings turn out to be of readily identifiable flying objects such as airplanes, balloons, satellites and such.

Hynek's views came in a lecture, "Adventures in Ideas," at Hillsdale College where a year earlier more than a score of coeds and the county's civil defense director reported strange red and white lights flying about for some three hours.

Hynek said in an interview that until somebody can come up with a better one, he is sticking with his theory that Hillsdale's UFOS were radiant, floating pockets of swamp gas. But he added in the lecture "the case is 'not really closed" here or at Dexter, Mich., where similar sightings were reported a year ago this month.

Civil Defense Director William Van Horn of Hillsdale criticized the swamp gas theory at the time and said "it was definitely some kind of vehicle." Many of the excited coeds who summoned Van Horn to their dormatory also disputed the swamp gas theory.

Swamp Was Possibility

Hynek said he advanced swamp gas as a possibility, not as a finding.

He said many people "want to believe desperately we are not alone and are being visited from outside.

"Almost assuredly there is life elsewhere," Hynek said.

"But the problem would be getting here." He said that light from some stars being photographed today started out when dinosaurs roamed the earth.

Other Civilizations?

On the other hand, he said "there may be civilization with a life span of 50,000 years" and suggested earthlings may be the only one with an allotted three score and 10 years.

Hynek said it would take affidavits from two independent witnesses, a negative, the shutter speed and other characteristics of the camera to, in his view, authenticate a photograph of a UFO.

Asked about Polaroid photographs taken by brothers Dan and Grant Jaroslaw outside Detroit last Nov. 9, Hynek said he understands the Air Force hopes to be able to make a report on them in a few days.

After two weeks of studying copies of the Jaroslaw photographs, Hynek reported that "the possibility of a hoax seems less likely (in photographs made with a camera of this type), although it has not been eliminated entirely."

The family has refused to permit study of the original photographs by either Hynek or the Air Force.

Not Afraid

The two brothers, Dan, age 17, and Grant, 15, swore Grant shot the photographs of a hamburger shaped flying object with an antenna in the rear over Lake St. Clair in their backyard in Harrison Township between Detroit and Mount Clemens.

Persons who claimed to have taken rides in flying saucers never have brought back any tangible evidence, Hynek said. Asked if he would be afraid if he spotted one, he replied: "Hell, no."

In his lecture, Hynek said he was "proposing rather seriously" that civic clubs donate cameras and film for police squad cars. Deputy sheriffs and policemen were among those reporting sightings last year near Dexter.

Wiretap Foe's Phone Bugged

DETROIT (AP)—Quite by accident, wiretapping critic Edgar C. (Doc) Greene, a respected newspaper columnist, says he has made the surprising discovery that his telephone line had been tapped.

Green, noted for his wide range of contacts, said in his column recently in the Detroit News that the wiretap had been found.

Gene Allen of Research Electronics Co., invited to Greene's house was demonstrating devices which Allen says he uses to make monthly antiwiretap checks for about 70 business firms.

"I've checked the room," Allen said, showing how electronic gadgets work. "I'd like tp check that phone."

"Go ahead," Greene said. "But we're wasting time. I want to ask you a lot of technical questions."

Allen took what he calls a field strength meter, wrapped a wire around the telephone, and suddenly called Greene over to look at the meter reading.

"If your phone isn't tapped I'll eat it," Allen said.

Allen scheduled a recheck for the next afternoon to see if the wiretap was still in force, telling Greene that publicity would result in the tap being removed.

"And it had been," Greene reported after the second check.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co., contacted by The Associated Press about Greene's column, said it had no knowledge of the wiretap.

"He hasn't made a complaint," a spokesman said. "We will check it out if we get a complaint. We always check out such complaints."

The spokesman said Michigan Bell was opposed to wiretapping and favored it being outlawed as an invasion of privacy.

Asked whether Michigan Bell ever made wiretaps, or consented to let others tap Michigan Bell wires or telephones, the spokesman said: "Never."

The question of whether wiretapping is illegal in Michigan seems unanswered.

Michigan law provides a fine of up to $1,000 and a jail term of up to two years for "Unauthorized" wiretapping, but does not say who may be authorized to tap a wire.

Lacking Cash, Greek Theater Cancels For '67

YPSILANTI (AP)—The Ypsilanti Greek Theater has given up all plans for a 1967 season but holds out hope that it may resume production next year.

The theater staged its first season last summer but ran into financial difficulties and wound up the year nearly $250,000 in debt.

Among the creditors is the United States government, which claims some $80,000 in withholding taxes were not deducted from theater cast and staff payrolls.

The theater was the world's first major professional group regularly producing Greek drama in English.

Sponsors have asked Eastern Michigan University to incorporate the concept in the university's present dramatics and theater program.

Two productions — a Greek tragedy and a comedy — were staged last year in an open air theater that was converted from a baseball diamond.

The decision to drop plans for a season this year came after a fund-raising drive failed to obtain pledges of $500,000 needed to pay off the debts and bankroll new productions.

Business management of the theater has been assumed by the Ypsilanti Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Development Corp.

U.S. Plywood Builds Sawmill

GAYLORD (AP)—The manager of lumber operations at the U.S. Plywood Champion Paper Co. Inc. in Gaylord has announced that construction has begun on a new sawmill. The manager, Albert Quall, said that the construction would cost over $250,000. He estimated the new mill would add $800,000 per year to northern Michigan's economy. He expects the plant to be in operation in June.

In Memoriam

Larson

In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Albin Thomas Larson, who passed away March 26th, 1966.

Broken is the family circle,
Our dear one is passed away,
Passed from earth and earthly darkness,
Into bright and perfect day.
But we all must cease to languish
O'er the grave of him we love,
Strive to be prepared to meet him,
In the better world above.

Sadly Missed By Mr. and Mrs. Nelse Larson, Katherine, Melinda and Estelle

Morrell Survivor Still Recuperates

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Dennis Hale, 26, only survivor of the sinking last Nov. 29 of the ore carrier Daniel J. Morrell, still is recuperating from his 36-hour exposure in icy Lake Huron before he was rescued from a life raft.

Twenty-eight other crewmen died when the 600-foot freighter broke up and sank during a storm.

Hale, who was a deck watchman, was confined in Ashtabula General Hospital from Dec. 5 to Jan. 7.

His brother, Cletus, also an Ashtabula resident, said Hale still has difficulty walking and remains under treatment of a doctor. Dennis has been unable to work, Cletus Hale said.

For his injuries in the sinking, Hale has sued Bethlehem Steel Corp., operator of the Morrell, for $150,000.

Dental Drilling To End?

EVANSVILLE, Ind. — Americans who dread the dentist's drill have some pleasant surprises ahead.

Repair work — drilling, filling, and such — is going the way of George Washington's wodden choppers. Instead, the emphasis is on preventing tooth decay long before it starts.

New techniques and methods are being developed to fight dental caries, a disease that now affects 99 percent of the adult population.

For example, 20 years ago, public health officials discovered that fluoridated water supplies were effective in cutting tooth decay in half, and substantially reducing dental expenses. Today, it's possible for the two of every three parents who do not have fluoridated water to insure that their children get the same protection.

A study conducted at Indiana University proved for the first time that another means of giving fluorides to children is just as effective as fluoridating public water supplies. The study showed that when a vitamin-fluoride combination was given daily over a three-year period, tooth decay in the children's teeth was reduced up to 63 per cent.

With the vitamin-fluoride combination, children get the fluorides from infancy when the teeth are forming, through age 10 or so when the permanent teeth have been developed.

To explore other methods of preventing tooth decay, dental research has developed the "talking tooth." An artificial tooth equipped with six tiny radio transmitters was produced by University of Michigan dental scientists, who hope that this tooth will be able to tell them what changes take place in the mouth that affect the decaying process. At the Tufts University School of Dental Medicine, other teeth are being bugged with electronic devices to detect problems in patient's bite.

Research also is underway for a vaccine that would prevent tooth decay by destroying acid-producing bacteria that cause cavities. This vaccine has not yet been perfected, however.

A "tooth bank" may also be on the list of things to come in dentistry.

Dentists already are able to transplant some teeth within a person's mouth; a wisdom tooth, for example, may replace a worn-out first molar, one of the most frequently used teeth for chewing. Research is now underway at the Albert Einstein Medical Center with "quick frozen" teeth for use in other people's mouths. So far, about 50 per cent of these person-to-person transplants have been successful.

If modern dentistry has its way, most people will be able to have truly permanent teeth all their lives. But with all these advances, good dental health still requires some preventive measures from the patient. A well-balanced diet, brushing after every meal, daily doses of vitamin-fluoride combinations for children who do not have fluoridated water, and regular visits to the dentist are the best insurance against tooth decay.

Swimming Pool Records Quake

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Folks with swimming pools in their yards may be splashing about in some of the best earthquake recording devices there are, a seismologist from Columbia University reports.

Arthur McGarr of the university's Lamont Geological Observatory said Friday that certain kinds of waves in streams, reservoirs and backyard swimming pools are sensitive and valuable recording tools.

McGarr, speaking at the annual meeting of the Seismological Society of America, said such waves are called seiches, and are standing waves, as opposed to moving waves like those in the sea.

McGarr said that seiches caused by Alaska's Good Friday earthquake of 1964 were recorded throughout North America and in some lakes and streams in Australia.

"In the case of this great quake," he said, "the seiche measurements in streams were extremely important to seismology because the violence of the quake knocked out most of the more conventional seismic instruments."

Golden Guernsey Farmers Voted Against Strike

HARTLAND, Wis., — Attempts to throttle milk supplies to force farm prices up received a setback this week when producer members of Golden Guernsey Dairy co-operative voted overwhelmingly to reaffirm their "loyalty" pledge for continued milk shipping.

The co-operative's meeting had been called by officials of the 400 farmer organization after complaints in the ranks about the pledge, put in effect in 1963. Producers have signed agreements that they would not withhold "at the direction of any outside organization."

The unrest grew out of the milk holding action started by the NFO Mar. 15. Golden Guernsey, which includes some NFO farmers, reported six withheld milk this week.

The co-operative's president, John Horlamus, West Bend, and general manager, Gavin W. McKerrow, warned that members' $5 million investment might be endangered if supplies were interrupted.

"The big dairies, our competitors, will find a way to get milk," said Horlamus. ". . . . transportation over great distances now is possible."

Howard Meissner, Hartland, who said he was not an NFO member but had "held some," asked whether the cooperative had "money in the box" to pay off members who quit. Horlamus said it always had paid off members' equities.

Claim Perjury In Hoffa Case

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —A federal grand jury here returned two indictments Friday in connection with affidavits filed on behalf of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

The indictments will remain sealed until those charged are arrested.

The affidavits—one of which U. S. District Court Judge Frank Wilson called "patent perjury"—were filed in 1965 as Hoffa petitioned for a new trial on jury tampering charges. The motion for a new trial was denied.

The affidavits were submitted by Chattanooga hotel bellhops and four prostitutes who alleged misconduct by Wilson, jurors and U. S. marshals during the labor leader's 1964 trial here.

The grand jury began its investigation 16 months ago under the guidance of U. S. District Court Judge Robert Taylor of Knoxville after Wilson excused himself.

Hoffa is serving an eight-year sentence at the Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison as a result of his conviction here.

The jury tampering charge was filed as a result of Hoffa's 1962 trial in Nashville on conspiracy charges. The jury did not reach a verdict in that case.

Meanwhile, Wilson said Friday he will decide Monday on a date to argue another new trial motion filed by Hoffa lawyers.

Detroit Fourth In Air Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report ranks Detroit fourth in the nation among major cities whose air pollution trigger illness and death from heart and respiratory diseases.

The report, recently issued by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said Detroit's average concentration of sulphur dioxide is 0.05 parts per million. New York tops the list with 0.14, the report said, and Chicago is second and Philadelphia third.

Venice's Art Damage Grows

VENICE, Italy (AP) — Officials fear Venice's art suffered more damage from the November flood than was at first thought.

"You might say that 100 years passed in that one day," says Francesco Valcanover, head of Venice's galleries.

No major art works were destroyed by the Nov. 4 floodwaters but many small churches and other buildings are showing signs of accelerated decay from humidity.

Valcanover fears the damage will become more evident this summer, when heat draws salty dampness from the richly decorated church walls.

"That would ruin the paintings and murals attached to the walls," he says. "We will have to detach them and provide for a permanent space in back of them."

When conditions are at their best, Venice is far from an ideal home for art. The humidity usually ranges 40-50 per cent on the surface of stone or marble. Salt from the canals and the lagoon eats away at everything.

The water Nov. 4 rose 20 inches above any previous level.

Salt deposits and mold have begun to appear on paintings on canvas in the sacristy of St. Sebastian's church. Priceless paintings by Tintoretto and Veronese show no signs of damage but officials plan to install an air conditioner.

Walls are flaking in the ornate "Doctor's Chapel" of St. Cassiano's church, and its frescos are fading.

Claims Beating, Sues Montgomery Ward For Million

CHICAGO (AP) — A Livonia, Mich., man filed suit in U.S. District Court in Chicago Friday for $1 million in damages from Montgomery Ward & Co.

Carl Berkstrom, 44, a junior high school teacher, claimed in his suit that he went to a Ward's store in Livonia March 2, 1966, to use a coin-operated copying machine.

He said he brought with him a record and its paperboard jacket from which he wished to have copied explanatory musical information regarding the recording.

When he finished using the machine, the suit stated, two Ward's security guards grabbed him as he left the store and accused him of stealing the record.

The suit said the guards beat him before he was released.

Berkstrom's attorney, Jerome J. Jacobsen, said the record which Berkstrom had brought into the shop was out of circulation and that Ward's had not stocked it.

Predict Powell Will Be Seated

WASHINGTON AP) — The House will reverse itself and seat Adam Clayton Powell if the Harlem Democrat wins a special election next month, Rep. Emanuel Celler predicted today.

Celler, chairman of the select House committee that sat in judgment of Powell earlier this year, said his prediction was based on private talks with other members.

He said many members who voted March 1 against seating Powell have had second thoughts and now believe "it would be more expedient" to seat the Negro preacher-politician.

Celler, D-N.Y., said in a telephone interview from his New York office that he's "quite sure there would be more than enough members changing their viewpoint" to assure Powell's seating if Harlem voters elect him once more. Powell is a heavy favorite to win the April 11 special election.

"Suppose we refused to accept him again and they elect him again and he comes in a third time?" We would make a farce cut of this thing."

The one Negro on Celler's select committee, Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., said in a separate telephone interview he also is sure the House would change its mind and seat Powell.

"A number of members realize that in trying to deal him such a grievous blow, they inadvertently did him a big favor," Conyers said. "And there isn't going to be a mood as vindictive as before."

The Celler committee found that Powell, former chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, put government funds to personal use. It recommended his seating but said he should be censured and docked $40,000 in salary.

In voting to exclude Powell, the House went against the leadership of both parties as well as the committee.

Powell has brought suit in federal court seeking to force the House to seat him, and Celler previously said he thinks Powell has a solid case.

House Democratic Leader Carl B. Albert of Oklahoma told reporters Thursday "it would be my judgment that the House would seat him," and follow the Celler committee's punishment recommendation.

But in a separate news conference Thursday, House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said he believes the House is just as adamant on barring Powell as it was. An aide later said Ford also has found that some members have had second thoughts about their votes to exclude Powell.

"But that doesn't necessarily mean they will vote the other way," the aide said.

Schooner Sinks

The 73-foot ship was launched in 1863 at Norwalk, Conn., and is reported to be the oldest registered vessel in the United States.

Dog Assists In Spanish Lessons

FRUITPORT (AP) — Spanish lessons at Fruitport High School have gone to the dogs. In this case, its Mucho, a laborador retriever owned by Spanish teacher Mrs. George K. Hundley of Spring Lake.

Mucho responds only to commands given in Spanish, according to Mrs. Hundley. Occasionally she takes Mucho to school where he is used as part of a demonstration.

Mrs. Hundley says many times students fear a foreign language because it sounds so strange to them. She says to see Mucho respond to their commands brings the students closer to the language they are studying.

Mucho went with Mrs. Hundley and her husband to Mexico in 1960 where Hundley was appointed director of the American Friends Service Committee, a community project in Jantetelco, Mexico.

Mucho was purchased shortly before the Hundleys left for Mexico and for two years was trained in Spanish.

Hundley is a sociology professor at Grand Valley State College.

Claims Beating, Sues Montgomery Ward For Million

CHICAGO (AP) — A Livonia, Mich., man filed suit in U.S. District Court in Chicago Friday for $1 million in damages from Montgomery Ward & Co.

Carl Berkstrom, 44, a junior high school teacher, claimed in his suit that he went to a Ward's store in Livonia March 2, 1966, to use a coin-operated copying machine.

He said he brought with him a record and its paperboard jacket from which he wished to have copied explanatory musical information regarding the recording.

When he finished using the machine, the suit stated, two Ward's security guards grabbed him as he left the store and accused him of stealing the record.

The suit said the guards beat him before he was released.

Berkstrom's attorney, Jerome J. Jacobsen, said the record which Berkstrom had brought into the shop was out of circulation and that Ward's had not stocked it.

Predict Powell Will Be Seated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House will reverse itself and seat Adam Clayton Powell if the Harlem Democrat wins a special election next month, Rep. Emanuel Celler predicted today.

Celler, chairman of the select House committee that sat in judgment of Powell earlier this year, said his prediction was based on private talks with other members.

He said many members who voted March 1 against seating Powell have had second thoughts and now believe "it would be more expedient" to seat the Negro preacher-politician.

Celler, D-N.Y., said in a telephone interview from his New York office that he's "quite sure there would be more than enough members changing their viewpoint" to assure Powell's seating if Harlem voters elect him once more. Powell is a heavy favorite to win the April 11 special election.

"Suppose we refused to accept him again and they elect him again and he comes in a third time?" We would make a farce out of this thing."

The one Negro on Celler's select committee, Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., said in a separate telephone interview he also is sure the House would change its mind and seat Powell.

"A number of members realize that in trying to deal him such a grievous blow, they inadvertently did him a big favor," Conyers said. "And there isn't going to be a mood as vindictive as before."

The Celler committee found that Powell, former chairman of the Education and Labor Committee, put government funds to personal use. It recommended his seating but said he should be censured and docked $40,000 in salary.

In voting to exclude Powell, the House went against the leadership of both parties as well as the committee.

Powell has brought suit in federal court seeking to force the House to seat him, and Celler previously said he thinks Powell has a solid case.

House Democratic Leader Carl B. Albert of Oklahoma told reporters Thursday "it would be my judgment that the House would seat him," and follow the Celler committee's punishment recommendation.

But in a separate news conference Thursday, House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said he believes the House is just as adamant on barring Powell as it was. An aide later said Ford also has found that some members have had second thoughts about their votes to exclude Powell.

"But that doesn't necessarily mean they will vote the other way," the aide said.

Dog Assists In Spanish Lessons

FRUITPORT (AP) — Spanish lessons at Fruitport High School have gone to the dogs. In this case, its Mucho, a laborador retriever owned by Spanish teacher Mrs. George K. Hundley of Spring Lake.

Mucho responds only to commands given in Spanish, according to Mrs. Hundley. Occasionally she takes Mucho to school where he is used as part of a demonstration.

Mrs. Hundley says many times students fear a foreign language because it sounds so strange to them. She says to see Mucho respond to their commands brings the students closer to the language they are studying.

Mucho went with Mrs. Hundley and her husband to Mexico in 1960 where Hundley was appointed director of the American Friends Service Committee, a community project in Jantetelco, Mexico.

Mucho was purchased shortly before the Hundleys left for Mexico and for two years was trained in Spanish.

Hundley is a sociology professor at Grand Valley State College.
